Instructor: Paul Martin
Course No. English 005
Course Title: Canada TAP
Semester: Fall 07

Please evaluate the course. (You might consider class readings, discussions, lectures, and activities; the intellectual challenge of the course; changes in your work over the semester; the value of what you learned.)

I learned a lot from this class. The readings covered a great deal of subject matter and were from authors in all parts of Canada. The media aspect was a benefit. The ipods exposed us to Canadian music, radio, and readings. The podcasts & blogs were something new for me. The trip to Ottawa has by far been the best part of the semester.

Please evaluate the instructor. (You might consider the instructor's preparation for class; interactions with students in class; quality of the instruction; feedback on your work; and availability outside class.)

Professor Martin is fully engaged in the subject matter. His enthusiasm makes it a much more enjoyable class.

Please evaluate the work you put into this course. (You might consider the quality of your written work; your contributions to group and class discussions; and your commitment to the course.)

I think I did well with some aspects of this course, but semester-long projects have not been completed.

Course Title: Canadian Studies
Semester: Fall

Please evaluate the course. (You might consider class readings, discussions, lectures, and activities; the intellectual challenge of the course; changes in your work over the semester; the value of what you learned.) The course was good. It tried to cover all the important facts of Canada's history and try to get in readings. This course brought all that was important in Canada.

Please evaluate the instructor. (You might consider the instructor's preparation for class; interactions with students in class; quality of the instruction; feedback on your work; and availability outside class.) Paul Martin is a great professor. He trying to teach us all about Canada in the small amount of time. Not many can do this.

Please evaluate the work you put into this course. (You might consider the quality of your written work; your contributions to group and class discussions; and your commitment to the course.) This was the hardest class work that I had to do this semester.

Please evaluate the course. (You might consider class readings, discussions, lectures, and activities; the intellectual challenge of the course; changes in your work over the semester; the value of what you learned.)

The course was good; Paul Martin is a great teacher. We covered both a vast variety of English works as well as history: A good mixed bag.

Please evaluate the instructor. (You might consider the instructor's preparation for class; interactions with students in class; quality of the instruction; feedback on your work; and availability outside class.)

Paul Martin was great. He was always prepared with a lesson plan and interacted well with the class. Everyone likes him.

Please evaluate the work you put into this course. (You might consider the quality of your written work; your contributions to group and class discussions; and your commitment to the course.)

Paul had us work in groups to get to know each other as well as individually. It wasn't too much work, but a fair amount.

I feel like I learned a lot through taking this course. I started with no prior knowledge of Canada and am leaving much more informed and interested in Canada as a whole. The only problem I had with the course was the discussion-based structure which was uninteresting at times.

Please evaluate the instructor. (You might consider the instructor's preparation for class; interactions with students in class; quality of the instruction; feedback on your work; and availability outside class.)

Paul Martin is a great professor! I liked that he was from Canada, so he obviously was interested in the topic. He was very responsive to questions and changed due dates, etc. when they weren't working with our schedules. Overall, he made the class feel very relaxed and casual, which is a plus.

Please evaluate the work you put into this course. (You might consider the quality of your written work; your contributions to group and class discussions; and your commitment to the course.)

I feel like my work was of high quality. I put a lot of work into my podcast, blogs, and midterm, and my grades reflect it.

We learned a lot about the culture of Canada - the interworkings of the provinces. I liked the course overall. We watched a lot of movies on Canadian history. I wish that we had done more reading and had gone more in depth with them. The course was very easy to follow and for the most part, simple.

I enjoyed having Paul as a professor. His interest in Canada came across in his lessons and his teaching. He could have been a bit more demanding at times but I enjoyed having him as a teacher thoroughly.

To be honest there wasn't a whole lot of work involved and I found that because he didn't demand a whole lot of us, I didn't try as hard.

Course No: Eng 005
Course Title: _____
Semester: Fall

Please evaluate the course. (You might consider class readings, discussions, lectures, and activities; the intellectual challenge of the course; changes in your work over the semester; the value of what you learned.)

The course was interesting, I learned a great deal about Canada, much more than I knew before I took the class. The Ottawa trip was an amazing learning experience that I highly recommend remain on the itinerary.

Please evaluate the instructor. (You might consider the instructor's preparation for class; interactions with students in class; quality of the instruction; feedback on your work; and availability outside class.)

Paul is funny and engaging, he made the class enjoyable and informative.

Please evaluate the work you put into this course. (You might consider the quality of your written work; your contributions to group and class discussions; and your commitment to the course.)

The work load was average. Stay on top of the blog's do your readings and you'll be fine.

Great course, unconventional material & presented in different ways that kept the course interesting. Fun projects that not only made assignments better, but taught students more about vital computer skills for the rest of a student's college career.

Great guy. Not only does he know his stuff but he puts forth a lot of personality that makes seemingly tedious assignments more interesting. Could use more English/Literature in this class, at least maybe more incorporation into the classroom, but that's only because that's I find the most interesting. Everything was great!

I put quite a bit of effort into this course, although I did space-out on some reading assignments a few times.
