Instructor: Paul Mart
Course No. English 005
Course Title: Canada's Cultural Landscape
Semester: Fall 2008

Please evaluate the course. (You might consider class readings, discussions, lectures, and activities; the intellectual challenge of the course; changes in your work over the semester; the value of what you learned.) I enjoyed most of the work in this class, most of it was not intellectually challenging but it did require preparation and effort. I think what we learned was valuable, especially because of our proximity to Canada.

Please evaluate the instructor. (You might consider the instructor's preparation for class; interactions with students in class; quality of the instruction; feedback on your work; and availability outside class.) I believe our instructor was prepared for classes and gave good feedback. He was approachable and engaging.

Please evaluate the work you put into this course. (You might consider the quality of your written work; your contributions to group and class discussions; and your commitment to the course.) 90% of the work was my best.

There was plenty of reading for this course. The stories were extremely varied and diverse and really gave me many different perspectives on Canada. The trip to Ottawa was awesome and a great way to learn about the culture of the nation.

Please evaluate the instructor. (You might consider the instructor's preparation for class; interactions with students in class; quality of the instruction; feedback on your work; and availability outside class.)

Dr. Martin always knew what he was talking about and as a Canadian, gave an interesting perspective to everything. I found our class projects (i.e. blogs, podcasts) to be fun and really interesting.

Please evaluate the work you put into this course. (You might consider the quality of your written work; your contributions to group and class discussions; and your commitment to the course.)

I put a lot of time into this class. For the blogs I had to do a lot of research and spend time on my writing skills. Also, I had to read a lot.

I thought this course was a great exploration of cultural aspects of Canada. I thought there was a good focus on literature, but could have maybe had more coverage of some other areas.

Please evaluate the instructor. (You might consider the instructor's preparation for class; interactions with students in class; quality of the instruction; feedback on your work; and availability outside class.)

I thought my professor was prepared for class and had good methods of teaching. He was available anytime when I needed him outside of class.

I feel that on all turned in assignments I put in a lot of work, but could have been more involved in class discussions.

This course was good. I was very laid back, but at times there would be a lot of work.

The instructor was good. He was very laid back. He was a fine instructor, since he had a small class he always interacted with us.

I put a good amount of work into this class, but it was in chunks. There would be huge amounts of time where I did nothing for the class and then there were times where I put a lot into this class. I participated a lot in class discussions.

I loved having this class in the mornings it was such a relaxing and non-stressful way to start my day. I loved the collection of short stories we read but wasn't a huge fan of blogging.

He's awesome. He's so helpful and is easy to approach. He doesn't flip out when I've missed a class or didn't finish a particular reading assignment.

I haven't put a ton of work into this class but the work I have done is of good quality.

The readings were very challenging but the discussions were not. We needed to look deeper into the stories, ~~I guess~~. ~~I felt like~~ the classes could've been much more informative. During lectures we would talk and talk, but mostly circumnavigate around the real point, and end up w/ very little info. The lectures should be just as fun, but more pointed and structured so we come away w/ a better + fuller understanding of the info.

Please evaluate the instructor. (You might consider the instructor's preparation for class; interactions with students in class; quality of the instruction; feedback on your work; and availability outside class.)

Prof. Martin was very amiable and friendly; he was as nice a professor as you could want. However something that would make his teaching better is if he would pause sometimes during his lectures to see if anyone has input. He can talk a lot, w/o stopping. The other thing is if he could tell us in class what our hwk is, instead of posting it - I always forget to ✓ the

The quality of the work was low b/c our understanding of the class standards were low. The lectures were easy, so we expected the projects to be kindly graded, and didn't take them as seriously as we should've. our commitment was → weak b/c so little was asked of us during class. Even being asked to write 3-5 sentences on what we read would encourage us to actually read.
